PARENT QUOTES

I feel it's given them so much more confidence going into year 7.

They have thoroughly enjoyed this week

I think it has been such a valuable experience for them all.

She is a different girl to who she was the week before! New friends, new experiences, she's really come alive!

My son has really enjoyed it and been super excited to tell us all about his day, so thank you to everyone for making it awesome

My son is loving the experience so far, he comes out full of news of the day

He is absolutely loving it. I can't believe how much he has come on already, it's really boosted his confidence for September

You have been providing an amazing week. Thank you so much for inspiring them and making their transition as smooth possible.
